My Dear Mr. Cook, These unimportant Dottings were intended for the perusal of those at home, whom circumstances prevented from sharing in the pleasures I have so recently enjoyed. Unfortunately, whilst my caligraphy has been described by partial friends as picturesque, by the world at large it is declared to be execrable; and as (a caligraphist having no honour in his own household) I regret to say my family share in the latter view of the case, if their pleasure is to be secured, I must necessarily appeal to the art we owe to the intellect of Gutenberg and the enterprise of Caxton. This being so, to whom can I dedicate these scribblings but to you? To your wise suggestion that an over-wrought brain would find its needed relief in strange scenes and novel surroundings, I owe the last few weeks of travel - to your ever thoughtful and considerate kindness that the time has proved a long delight, and that no...
