From Content: So when I think of my sturdy Puritan forbears in the summer planting of Salem and of Boston, I see them in honest russet kersey; gay too with the bright stamell-red of their waistcoats and the grain-red linings of mandillions; scarlet-capped are they, and enlivened with many a great scarlet-hooded cloak. I see them in this attire on shipboard, where they were greeted off Salem with a smell from the shore like the smell of a garden; I see them landing in happy June amid sweet wild strawberries and fair single roses. I see them walking along the little lanes and half-streets in which for many years bayberry and sweet-fern lingered in dusty fragrant clumps by the roadside. Scented with Caedar and Sweet Fern From Heats reflection dry, wrote of that welcoming shore one colonist who came on the first ship, and noted in rhyme what he found and saw and felt and smelt. And I see the forefathers standing under the hot little cedar trees of the Massachusetts coast, not sober in sad color, but cheery in russet and...
